...Dietrich, sir: I have arrived in the lounge.

Hold tight, Detective. Klem's coming down to meet you right now.

Shit

Fucking cabler

Don't touch her

Diseases and shit

Very well, I will wait --

Excuse me, there is someone here in distress.

Honey, can you hear me?

Shit.

Somebody call 911, get an ambulance down here!

Let me through, I am a police officer. What happened here?

She just collapsed. Anybody see where she came from?

911 said there's an ambulance on its way.

This one's gonna need more than an ambulance.

Madam, thank you, but I must ask you to step back from the crime scene and allow the professionals to work.

Whatever you say, handsome.

Gott, she stinks...

Nothing in her hands, no wounds to the rear.

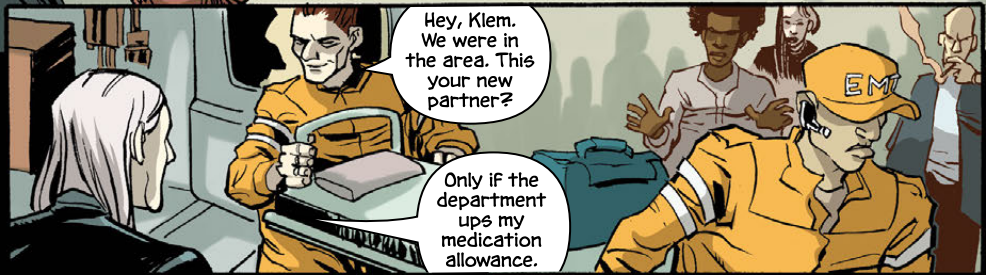

She had money, but it wasn't taken, so not a robbery.

And yes, where did she come from...

Ah, paramedics! Over here!

Hey, Klem. We were in the area. This your new partner?

Only if the department ups my medication allowance.

I thought Fontanelli did all the jokes.

Yeah, I'm just carrying the torch.
